Hi caraba!

 "Happy Valentines Day"! ♡

Linda hoping you, and your husband are in good health.

We have been just fine thank God!

Congratulations on your new house. We feel happy that you are doing all right. We can't complain we don't have a house but we have travel quite a bite. In one of my letters I probably told you that we went to Spain, Africa, Portugal, Belgia. We did ~~enjo~~ like it very much.

I also ask quite a few questions (to you) so far I haven't received no answer. About you wondering if we are back in the states?

No, we are not. I guess that's what you call fast service over Chrismas.

Claude is taking history. He gets ~~a~~ credit like if he was going to college. I'm also planning to take bookkipping, Typing or Business Machines. (anything) I'm also started to go and try to learn some Germon. It's very difficult. I guess I'll try my best, at least to know the most important words to make myself understood.

My son, is a "devil" I can't take it no more. When his not doing something his into something else.

You ask me when we are coming back.
Well that's kind of hard to tell maybe this November, that is if Claude doesn't get another year extension here in Europe.

So far we been doing allright. We bought a bedroom set last year, We got a living room set (oak with read cushions) the sofa (for three persons and to individual chairs) We also got a oak table the surface is marmal. Its quite nice, we really like it. We also got some land in New Mexico, and another in ~~C~~ Texas.

We thank you for your invitation to your house. You are also welcome ~~over~~here! So if you decide to came to Europe you are quite Welcome to this your poor house ok.

Well Linda, take care and don't take so long to drop a few lines.

Claude says hi to you, and your husband kisses from little Claud. your friend Always

P.S

Gloria

Sorry for the sloppy hand writting I just cant do a thing to day.

Let me know how ~~are~~ things back here.

I mean, gas, electricity prices as much as you can tell me it will be better.

ok.

Take care.
